

Gentlemen,

I thought the FCC was in place to protect my interests, not those of telemarketers. My interests are represented by the strict New Jersey Do Not call Law. For you people to invalidate it would just convince me that once again an arm of my Federal Government has decided to represent business rather than common folks. I do not want my dinner hour one again invaded by telemarketers. when I want to do business with someone I do the calling. Please do not invalidate the strict New Jersey Law. It is a model of what national legislation should be.

Robert L. Bush